

Bioenergy Consultant Required

E4tech is a sustainable energy consultancy focused on the overlap between novel energy technology, environmental needs and business opportunities. We work for a wide range of prestigious international clients in the industrial, financial and government sectors through our offices in London and Lausanne. The vital ingredients of our work are a sound understanding of our clients' areas of interest, combined with a strategic approach to their challenges. Further information is available via www.e4tech.com

Bioenergy, covering transport fuels, power and heat, is a key area of our consulting business, and we wish to reinforce our capabilities in this area with a new London-based employee. The successful candidate will have strong technical knowledge, and preferably practical experience, of biomass conversion techniques, ideally coupled with business or consulting experience. Candidates must also demonstrate enthusiasm and initiative, and a strong interest in energy-environment issues.

The new consultant will participate in a wide variety of bioenergy and broader sustainable energy-related project work globally, and also in the development of this sector of our business. Fluent English is essential and other languages would be a strong advantage. Salary and grade will be based upon experience.

To apply, please email your CV and a short note explaining why you would like to join E4tech and what you could bring to this role, to jobs@e4tech.com.